

"Fox Point Preschool has been a place of nurturing, fun, blossoming spirits, and where many friendships have formed. All four of our children have attended the preschool, and they have all emerged excited about school and confident in themselves, ready for the next stage of life."

"Thank you FPP teachers! You are nurturing, flexible, dedicated to your work, and fun. You are truly amazing and we will always remember you and what you've done to help our children. Children leaving your program definitely have a love for school. I wish every child could have their first school experience with you."

~John & Beth Heilmann, FPP Parents

"From finger painting, to singing silly songs, to learning letters and numbers, these years are probably going to remain with me as the best days of my daughter's school years."

~Shawn Sileno, FPP Parent

Our Goals

Creating Learners for Life

Our belief is that the best gift we can give our students is a lifelong love of learning. We accomplish this by helping them build relationships with their peers and by working through unique thematic units, which include literacy, math, science, music, drama, art, and social skills as well as small and gross motor activities.

We use a multisensory approach that incorporates play to help engage our children in meaningful learning experiences. We have one of the largest classrooms in the area. Our indoor and newly renovated outdoor play space encourage students to practice and learn new gross motor skills.

Helping Young Hand Writers

Along with our thematic curriculum, we use Handwriting Without Tears' award-winning curriculum "Get Set for School." This curriculum helps children develop core readiness skills during the crucial years when 85 percent of the foundation for a child's intellect, personality, and skills is formed.*

(Research: The proof is in the classroom, n.d, Retrieved from: <http://www.hwtears.com/gss/why-it-works/research>)

We work with our students to develop an early and solid foundation in alphabet recognition. Research has shown this be one of the skills that is predictive of a child's future reading development. *

(IRA/NAEYC, 1998; National Center for Family Literacy, 2007)

With our emphasis on alphabet recognition and writing readiness, we feel confident that when our students leave Fox Point Preschool, they are well prepared to excel in their school careers.
